FACTS vs. PREJUDICE
Prejudice is hard to combat. It cannot be overcome in a day. More than likely it wasn't formed hastily. Indeed it may have been gradually strengthening its hold for years. For instance, some folks believe Rheumatism cannot be cured. Their fathers believed so before them. So did their grandfathers!
Now, RHEUMATISM CAN BE CURED, notwithstanding this prejudice, but the trouble is to make people think so. The only way we know to meet popular unbelief is to state the PLAIN FACTS, and then present the POSITIVE PROOFS that they are facts. It is a fact that the RUSSIAN RHEUMATISM CURE not only relieves but banishes Rheumatic Pain. There is positive proof of it too. It comes from those who have suffered untold agony with Rheumatism and have been completely cured by this remedy. All who have tried it have had this experience. Some of them permit us to print their testimony. It makes quite a little book, which we send free to any who are interested enough to ask for it.
A complete Russian Rheumatism Cure, costs $2.50. If mailed, 10c. additional. If registered, 10c. more. You'll never need but one, so the price isn't high. Who wouldn't give $2.50 to get rid of Rheumatism?
As yet it cannot be found at the stores, but can be had only by enclosing the amount as above, and addressing the American Proprietors,

GENERAL SPORTING NOTES.

Covington is looked upon as the coming jockey.

August Belmont has purchased Delilah from Mr. W. C. Daly.

Andre Christol and Sam Mathews, the California wrestlers, have both gone to Australia.

Buffalo Bill will exhibit his "Wild West" show at the American exhibition in London next year.

Hanlan has not gone to England, but will remain here and row Gaudaur a three-mile race for $2,500 a side.

Lucky Baldwin is willing to match his colt Volante, for any distance over a mile and a quarter, against any horse in America.

Philadelphia is likely to have a good jockey club next year, and will then compete with New York for possession of the crack race horses.

Murphy, McLaughlin, Hayward and Garrison, the four leading jockeys of America, are all married and are all worth money. They are all temperance men.

The wonderful 2-year-old colt Tremont, which started in thirteen races this season without meeting with a defeat, has won over $40,000 for his owners, the Dwyers.

H. M. Johnson has arranged to give a 150-yards handicap at Pittsburg during the last week in October. The prizes will be $80, $40, $20 and $10, with $2 to every heat winner. Entries close on Oct. 18.

Maurice Vignaux has written a letter to a friend in New York, saying that he intended coming to this country again the coming winter and play Schaefer another match for the championship of the world.

L. E. Myers now intends to start next month for Sydney, New South Wales, with the purpose of running a series of races against T. W. Malone, formerly an Irish amateur, who is now champion of Australia.

Sportsmen say that wild ducks will fairly swarm in the northwestern states this fall. Large numbers have been reared among the marshes of the north, the season having been so free from storms that very few eggs or ducklings were lost.

Tom Lees, the heavy-weight champion boxer of Australia, is coming to this country to make a match with some of our heavy weights. Lees is said to be a good one. He recently defeated Bill Farnum for $1,000 a side and the championship of Australia.

BASEBALL GOSSIP.

Mack, the new Washington catcher, is a promising young player.

There will be no southern or eastern league next season, so it is said.

The Louisvilles have not won a championship game since they came east.

It is claimed that the league has a better staff of umpires than it ever has had.

Every club in the league admits that the St. Louis Maroons are playing great ball.

Manager Gifford of the Syracuse club has made some strong additions to his team.

Galvin has pitched in seven games against the Athletics this season and has won all of them.

Mays, the pitcher of the Metropolitan club, is probably the lowest salaried pitcher in the association.

Barr, lately of the Washington club, has made brilliant records since joining the Rochester club.

The Chicago club was very fortunate in getting two such clever young players as Ryan and Flynn.

Handiboe, the young pitcher of the Pittsburg club, will not pitch again this season, his arm having given out.

The St. Louis Maroons have three regular batteries. They are as follows: Kirby and Myers, Healy and Greaves, and Boyle and Mappis.

The Detroit club has paid Manning's salary since he was injured at the Polo grounds on Decoration day. They believe he is worth keeping.

The way the new pitchers of the Washington club—O'Day and Gilmore—start off gives promise that they will prove a big addition to the club.

Umpire Wykoff has resumed his duties as an Eastern league umpire, after a long absence through sickness. Umpire Brady has been released.

Shaw, the Washington pitcher, is called "the Flea," on account of hopping and skipping all over his little square plantation and all but throwing himself out of joint when he pitches.

A very remarkable thing occurs in the fielding averages of the Cincinnati club. Reilly ranks eighth among the first basemen, Keenan ranks eighth among catchers, Carpenter eighth among the third basemen, and Fennelly eighth among the short stops.

The salaries of good pitchers are likely to take another upward turn next season. Good pitchers are in great demand, and the clubs seem willing to pay almost any price to get them. They are the main point in a team, and, no matter how strong a front a club presents in the field, they cannot play a winning game without the pitcher to help them out.—New York Sun.

STORIES ABOUT DOGS.

When a dog owned by a White Pine, Nev., stock raiser finds a calf or any other thing in the cattle line unbranded he drives it in the corral, then takes the branding iron to its master.

A small boy in Bangor, Me., thought it would be fun to tie paper and straw to his dog's tail and set them afire. The dog ran into the boy's father's barn, which, with an adjoining house, was burned to the ground. Loss, $4,000.

A little Skye terrier in Pittsburg followed a big Newfoundland dog, barking and snapping at his heels. The big dog looked at the little fellow for a moment, and, as this did not stop his barking, he grabbed him, shook him, and walking to the gutter, dropped him there. The little dog's back was broken in two or three places.

There is a wise dog in Morden, Manitoba. He slipped his collar the other day, and when his master called he refused to come, evidently fearing punishment; but in the night he returned, managed to get the collar over his head, and in the morning was found chained to his kennel, wagging his tail in conscious virtue.

James Lyon, of Elmira, N. Y., desired a photograph of his fine St. Bernard dog. When the dog saw the camera pointed he bolted out of the door. He was coaxed back and posed again. Again he took alarm, jumped out of a window, fell on an awning, broke through, fell on two young men, smashed a hat flat, and terribly scared a small colored bootblack.

One of twenty or more letters received by the geological survey at Washington, offering advice in regard to earthquakes, suggests that holes be bored through the earth's crust to give the destructive gases an outlet.

When you hear a man talking against his county newspaper, says The Springplace (Ga.) Times, you may just put it down that he owes about two years' subscription and is mad because the editor wants the money.

An English physician says that men shouldn't crop their hair short. Hair, he says, is a conductor of electricity to the brain, and if the brain fails to get electricity it will soon soften. This is bad news for baldheaded men.

An 8-year-old girl, one of a picnic party on a little steamboat on Spirit lake, Iowa, fell into the water. Herbert Scherfey, of Burlington, a lad of 17, jumped in after her, held her up until a boat came to her rescue, and as she was taken out of the water sank back exhausted into the lake and was drowned.

They tell in Brattleboro, Vt., of a clergyman who refused to take meat of his butcher because it had been killed on Sunday. A few days later the preacher told the butcher that he wanted some meat. "I haven't any to sell you," said that conscientious man. "I have stopped receiving money that is earned on Sunday."

Three Balls.

The game is watched with closest care,
No danger him appals.
The umpire keeps account of "strikes,"
And eke he cries "Three balls!"

He shivers past me on the street
This man of "strikes," and calls.
"Thine overcoat!" I haste to ask.
He only cries "Three balls!"

BLOOMSBURG, PA.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1886.

Make your arrangements to spend the day on Nov. 2, at the polls. Every man can afford to give one day in the year to his country. See that your neighbors do the same. Democratic success depends upon the work done in the rural districts.

The Democratic Senatorial Conference met at Danville on Monday evening, but made no nomination, and adjourned until 9 o'clock Thursday morning. If no result is reached at this session we would suggest that the conference adjourn sine die and let each county vote for its own candidate.

Election day is on November 2, a week from next Tuesday. If every Democrat does his duty victory will once more perch upon our banners. Go to the polls early, and stay late. See that every Democrat in the district is out, so that not a single vote will be lost.

C. G. Murphy, one of the nominees for Associate Judge, is a man of education and intelligence. He has risen in life by his own efforts, and has always been an active and consistent Democrat. He was nominated in the convention by a large majority, and there was no cause for dissatisfaction. Why, then, the talk in some townships on the other side of the river about not voting for him? His defeat is an utter impossibility, and the only excuse that any Democrat can give for voting against him would be some personal grudge. Such motives are undemocratic and unworthy the Democracy of this county. We have no doubt but that it will be Judge Murphy, by the usual majority.

A Discharged Post Office Clerk Complains and is Answered.

Thomas Parker, an employe of the Brooklyn Post Office, was discharged by Postmaster Hendrix on September 1. The postmaster had removed him to appoint a man who had passed the civil service examination, and who was selected as a special delivery messenger by the former postmaster. Parker presented his case to George William Curtis, and among other things in his reply Mr. Curtis said:

"The removal is an act of discretion on the part of the Postmaster, and unless there is evidence that there is a gross and flagrant wrong, and that a perfectly satisfactory clerk has been removed for improper reasons, neither the President nor Postmaster General could be expected to reverse the decision. If the Postmaster should say that in his opinion you were negligent or inefficient or anything else, and that interest of the service seemed to him to require a change, you can see that the President could not require specific evidence to determine whether the discretion of the Postmaster was exercised wisely."

Mr. Curtis further said that it would not be possible for the President to consider every individual case. "If, however, you are conscious that your removal is wholly causeless, and an abuse of the Postmaster's authority, I advise you to file your protest, with evidence, at the department."

Parker thereupon concluded to attract the President's attention in the matter by enclosing Mr. Curtis' letter with a letter of his own, saying: "After twenty-two years of honest and faithful service in the Brooklyn Post Office and ten years as a soldier, with an honorable discharge, I have been removed without a moment's notice from the Brooklyn Post Office. The excuse given is incompetency. I am an American, and the man who has taken my place is an Irishman and a Catholic and cannot speak the language of our country. This is indeed civil service with a vengeance. If Americans must take a back seat, let the ones in front be anything else but foreigners."

The President replied as follows:

"My Dear Sir: I find your letter of the 16th instant awaiting my return to the Executive Mansion. Your exceedingly ill-natured reference to the 'Irishman' and the 'Catholic,' and who you say has succeeded to your position detracts very largely, I think, from the claims you base upon 'twenty-two years of honest and faithful services in the Brooklyn Post Office and ten years as a soldier, with an honorable discharge,' and demonstrates that you have but little idea of the impartial treatment due to an American citizenship. You send me a newspaper clipping containing a published letter written to you by George William Curtis, which contains so much good sound sense upon the general subject of the removal of subordinates by their immediate superiors, that I commend it to your careful repersual."

A Decision as to Trade-Names.

An interesting point in the law of trade marks and trade-names has been decided in the Court of Common Pleas. Two brothers named Warner, each of whom was formerly a physician, have for many years conducted a corset business in Broadway and have sold their goods under the trade-mark "Dr. Warner's Coraline Corset." The defendants, Heilner & Strauss, also a Broadway firm, used on their corsets the name "Cordaline" and the plaintiffs brought a suit to restrain the infringement of their trade-mark. It was decided by Judge Allen that "Cordaline" was an unjustifiable imitation of the trade-mark "Coraline," the latter being a fancy name and not descriptive of the corset. The defendants stopped using "Cordaline" but began the use of "Dr. Warren's Corset," claiming that it was the custom in the corset trade to use fictitious names of Doctors and that there was a doctor of that name in California who had stated that his name could be used by the defendants. In a second action brought to restrain the use of "Dr. Warren," Judge Larremore holds that the plaintiffs are entitled to the protection of their family name as a trade name but not as a trade-mark, and as there is no one connected with the defendants' business by the name of "Dr. Warren" the use of the latter name by the defendants is too close an imitation of the plaintiffs' name and is not consistent with good faith on the part of the defendants, and he restrains its use.

William H. Sage, attorney for plaintiffs.

An important election is approaching. An opportunity is again offered the Democratic party to elect the state ticket. All that is needed is concerted action and a full vote. In this county it ought not to be necessary to get out the brass bands, and arouse enthusiasm through the medium of stump speeches in order to induce voters to do their duty. Nowadays, when everybody reads the papers, the issues of the campaign are well known. The leading question is whether the state constitution, the fundamental law, shall be enforced or whether it shall continue to be a dead letter, as it has been for years under Republican rule; whether the great corporations shall continue to dictate the legislation of the state in their own interests, or whether the people shall govern themselves. A vote for Black is in favor of the people a vote for Beaver is in favor of the corporations. Choose between them.

WASHINGTON LETTER

[From our Regular Correspondent.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19, 1886.

The events of the week in Washington have not been of a momentous or sensational character, but to those who follow the daily details of national history they are significant and not unimportant. The work of purification, of redistribution, of change, of improvement, daily goes on in the Departments under the new Administration. The history of a single day would fill a volume, and would furnish interesting reading to political philosophers and economists. But to epitomize the history of a week in a simple letter would be a remarkable feat of selection and condensation.

The members of the Cabinet are at work on their yearly reports. These when completed, will be the simplest as well as the ablest argument for the continuation of a Democratic Administration ever issued. They will show that a great step has been taken in the direction of cleanliness and honesty of government. It may strike some with surprise that the Government Printing Office, after having discharged five hundred employes and reducing expenses about $50,000 per month, is now doing more and better work than before. But this is a state of things that cause no surprise in Washington, where it is known that the Republican party has, for years, crowded the Government offices like omnibuses with political friends, favorites, and relatives. It cannot be claimed, of course, that at the end of twenty months of Democratic rule everything is just as it should be. It will require twenty years to complete the work of purification and reform so well begun; and then it is more than probable that the march of progress will be characterized by slips of retrogression. Democrats are not all wise and all powerful. Human weakness, selfishness, and cupidity will assert themselves. Nepotism and corruption will show occasional outcropping. But it is the belief of patriots, and, I may say, of politicians that we have entered upon a higher and more healthful plane of political life and morals.

The estimates of the Department of Justice are already on the President's table, and the estimates of other Departments are pretty well advanced. The reports circulated by Republicans that the clerks in the various Departments have been actively engaged in preparing campaign documents for the Democratic party, are said authoritatively to be not entirely inaccurate. The annual reports of the various Departments, and the estimates for the coming year taken together, it is believed, will constitute a series of magnificent campaign documents for the Democratic party. The present status and the proper fate of Geronimo have thus far been only casually spoken of at Cabinet meetings. The subject is in the hands of the President and the Secretaries of War and of the Interior. Their conclusion, when they reach one, will be considered in Cabinet council.

The annual report of First Assistant Postmaster-General Stevenson for the fiscal year ending June 30 shows a net increase of post-offices of 2,362; number filled by Presidential appointment, 11; filled by Postmaster-General, 2,330 total number of appointments during the year, 22,747, of which 9,566 were on removals and suspensions, an increase in total appointments is 13,200. There are 53,614 post-offices, of which 75 are first class.

Secretary Manning's health is so nearly restored that he has returned to his official duties. Soon after Mr. Manning was appointed Secretary of the Treasury, the late Vice-President Hendricks observed that Mr. Manning was a most remarkable man, and appeared to him to be as firm and solid as a gate post. This tribute to the physical and mental strength of the new Cabinet officer was but the reflection of public opinion, with a constitution, will-power, and industry seldom united, with a great organizing mind, Mr. Manning, not allowing himself reasonable time for rest and diversion, attempted to master the details and machinery of the great department of which he was the head. No man knew better than he the importance to the country and to his party that the reforms or changes expected must be made, after an intelligent and careful examination and deliberate consideration of their practical effect. In discharging these arduous duties, exposed as he was to the poisonous influences of sewer gas, his health became impaired. A few months of rest, combined with the best medical treatment, have done much to restore it.

Buckhorn.

It is after the fair now and we are all satisfied.

Last Thursday Hiram Stetler captured a live hawk which measured 4 ft. 4 inches from tip to tip. A battle was fought between it and the largest dog in town and it was hard to tell which was victorious.

Last Sunday afternoon Ulysses Oblosser met with what might have been a serious accident. While driving toward home his horse frightened at a heap of cordwood in the narrows below the Red mill and ran down the bank overturning the buggy, throwing the occupants out. The buggy was damaged considerable and the horse somewhat hurt but fortunately no one was hurt. Responsible parties should see that that heap of wood is removed as it is not the first scare that has occurred there, nor likely to be the last.

J. I. Shoemaker has removed from the Scott house to the Miller house, Wedgetown.

Weldy Dent has moved in the Ivey house, Buckhorn.

Abijah Swisher is papa for the first time in his life.

SENATORIAL CONFERENCE.

The conferees and candidates met at the City Hotel, Williamsport, last week, Wednesday evening, pursuant to adjournment. Twenty ballots were taken, the result being two for each candidate every time. An adjournment was made until Thursday morning and when the whole number of ballots had reached 160 with the same result, the conference adjourned to meet at Danville on Wednesday evening of this week. There is as yet no indication of what may happen.

Berwick.

Mr. Davenport has opened a novelty store in the Reagan building. He displays quite a fancy stock.

W. J. Mansfield has placed a stock of groceries, the old McMurtrie stand.

The old fence in front of the Wilson property, on Second street, has been replaced by a new one, which adds very much to the appearance of the place.

There is great need of street lamps on the main streets of the town. Many towns of a less number of inhabitants than Berwick have their towns nicely lighted.

Quite a number of dwelling houses are being built in town this Fall, among which is the house of Jee Lilley on Second street. This is to be a beautiful two and one-half story house. It will be ready for occupancy in the Spring. The house of Dr. Hill, also, on Second street, is nearly reached completion and will be ready to occupy in a few months. When these are completed they will add greatly to the appearance of the street.

Mr. Isa Sherman, the cabinet maker, is erecting a neat little cottage on Grant street. It has already assumed quite a pleasing appearance.

Masons are at work plastering on the interior of the new school house. It is hoped that it may be opened for the Winter school.

The Town Water Co. are arranging to place a line of fourteen-inch pipe to supply the town with water in place of the six-inch pipe now in use. This will be laid as soon as the water is out of the canal, and in the Spring large pumps will be placed and so connected as to supply water directly to the hydrants. In case of fire, the project, on the part of the Company, should be appreciated by all the citizens in town. The way in which business is conducted by the Company is good evidence of the ability of the Superintendent, Mr. Depew.

Nearly twenty people have joined the Chautauqua circle for this year. A meeting was held at the parlors of the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday evening.

The Tennis Club, of town, are arranging to entertain the clubs of Hazleton and Danville in the near future, at a tournament, on the Y. M. C. A. lawn.

The Literary Society of the Y. M. C. A. will meet on the evening of Saturday, the 20th, at 7:30 o'clock, in the Y. M. C. A. lecture room, for the purpose of organizing for the coming Winter. This society offers advantages for literary development that will be eagerly sought by all who attended last Winter.

LIVER COMPLAINT

SYMPTOMS: Bad breath; a bitter or bad taste in the mouth; pain in the back, sides or joints, often mistaken for rheumatism; sour stomach; loss of appetite; bowels alternately costive and lax; headache; loss of memory, with a painful sensation of having failed to do something which ought to have been done; debility; low spirits; a thick, yellow appearance of the skin and eyes; a dry cough, often mistaken for consumption.

How Cured.

"I have been afflicted many years with dyspepsia, sick headache and affection of the kidneys caused by torpid liver. I have tried a great many remedies and physicians prescriptions without success, health failing all the time. During last Fall and Winter I was obliged to suspend the most of my labor in my field of Home Missionary work on account of my health. Early this Spring I was induced to try Simmons Liver Regulator, and have had more real good health since then than for years before. I use the medicine to relive me when, by exposure or over-exertion, I discover the symptoms of my disease returning. The Regulator relieves me at once, and is more satisfactory in its effects than anything of the kind I ever tried. I have also used it with good success in my family to ward off bilious attacks."—Jos. E. Wheeler, Cumberland Pres. Minister, Lebanon, Mo.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, without relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured. —Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany st., Boston, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach. —Millie Jane Peirce, S. Bradford, Mass.

Rev. L. Zahner preached his farewell sermon on Sunday morning. A large congregation was present. On Tuesday afternoon he started with his family for Omaha, accompanied by the best wishes of many warm friends whom they leave behind. Mr. Zahner was called to this parish in November 1876, but was prevented by illness from assuming charge until Easter 1877. For nearly ten years he has been the rector of St. Paul's and within that time a great work has been accomplished in paying off a large church debt, the erection of a Rectory, and the accumulation of a chapel fund, the details of which were contained in the letter of the vestry accepting his resignation, published a few weeks ago. He enters now upon a larger and more important field of duty, and we wish him abundant success.

The Fair.

The thirty-first annual fair of the Columbia County Agricultural Society held last week marked another successful year for this prosperous society. Wednesday began bright and pleasant and the mammoth exhibition building was a scene of general activity. At evening time there was scarcely any vacant space left. Thursday was a gloomy day indeed, the threatening storm clouds and local rain kept thousands from the grounds. Friday was a rough, cold and windy day, but notwithstanding this, the roads leading to the grounds showed one continuous outpouring of the people. Careful estimates make the attendance about 15,000. Saturday was another disagreeable day, but thousands ventured on the grounds to witness the fast racing. Amid all the threatening storms and disagreeable weather the attendance this year was fully equal to that of last. With the constant addition of improvements we can look for the attendance to increase year by year. The department of needlework was the finest ever exhibited, while the articles must necessarily be the same each year, there was such a variety of each that when taken in the vast group made a handsome appearance, we could not enumerate them—the large award list speaks for itself. The decorative art department was the source of much attraction—the large space allotted for it, was all taken. Many were astonished to know that our young people were taking such an interest in this fine art, but the beautiful and well executed designs spoke for themselves; among the most artistic was that of Miss Green of Espy. H. A. McKillip had a fine display of photographs.

In the cooking department were found cakes and pies in endless numbers. Near by was the butter, and we wondered why there was so much poor butter on sale when here was exhibited so much of that which was first class.

The pumpkins, squashes, cabbage, corn, grain and fruit was as well represented as at any previous exhibition.

Canned goods, preserves, jellies, &c., had their department up to the standard, in fact the entries were larger than heretofore, but the great space to fill made them seem meagre.

In the carriage department M. C. Sloan & Bro., had several of their celebrated wagons. Stiff & Barton also had some of their work on exhibition, and S. A. Williams represented another manufacture.

Corell & Co., exhibited some of their fine stock of furniture.

The musical department was well represented by J. Saltzer with pianos of various makes and the celebrated Estey organ. Gomer Thomas of Danville had pianos and organs. Mrs. Nuss also had a nice collection of pianos and organs, and attracted much attention with her fine music.

The White Bronze Monuments, manufactured by the Monumental Bronze Co., of Bridgeport, Ct., was represented by Jno. A. Owens of Lewisburg. These monuments are now coming into general use, and are much preferred to the more expensive ones of granite.

Sewing machines were represented by J. Saltzer with the Royal St. John, the New Home, The White and the Davis. S. D. Neyhard had the New Wheeler & Wilson No. 8, with which he done fine work in tinsel writing, darning, &c. D. F. Weiss had the Singer machine and was busy showing its merits. Eicholtz & Meixell of Milton, had several varieties.

H. J. Clark & Son had their section well arranged with dress cloths, shawls and fancy articles. I. W. Hartman & Son had a fine display of dress cloths and wraps. Bloomsburg Woolen Mills had a number of pieces of their celebrated dress cloths. D. Lowenberg had his display of robes, blankets, trunks and valises. C. S. Furman represented the harness and saddlery also robes and blankets. F. D. Dentler and J. A. Hess each had a fine display of boots and shoes. B. I. Price had a case of spectacles and eye-glasses. The School Furnishing Co. had a number of their Conner school desk. Mrs. C. E. Rabb had a case of trimmed bonnets and hats—all of her own trimming. The Farmer's Produce Exchange had samples of De Voe & Co's ready mixed paints and paste, the Soluble Pacific guano, Nobsque guano and Dissolved bone phosphate. G. B. Martin had a case of beautiful horse shoes. Rabb & Rehm, specimens of their crockery manufacture.

A number of washing machines were represented, among them a new one of a late pattern by C. Mears & Son.

The stove and tinware department was a success. H. G. Eshleman & Co had ranges, double heaters, tinware, &c. C. B. Ent of Lightstreet a good display of stoves and tinware. E. B. Brower had the Royal Esther and Apollo ranges, the Model Crown and Penn Royal square double heaters and the Home Ventilating stove. L. E. Whary also had stoves. The display of agricultural implements surpassed all previous years. Harman & Bassert represented the D. M. Osborne & Co. mowers, reapers and binders. John Wolf with the Champion reapers and binders, also grain drills and hay rakes. The Keystone Ag. works with their thresher and separator. White & Conner of Orangeville with their celebrated thresher and separator also the Lion fodder cutter. H. F. Clark the Buckeye farm machinery, drills, rakes, cultivators, cider and lard press. Shaeffer, Markel & Co. of Fleetwood, Berks Co. grain separators, corn and cob breakers &c. A. B. Miller with the Keystone Agricultural implements, manufactured at Pottstown, Pa. J. M. Hulshizer of Lightstreet with his grain separators. Jesse Beaver & Son of Danville with their hay ladders, plows, cultivators, hay cutters corn shellers, &c. John Eves of Millville had two farm wagons, one light wagon and one platform spring wagon.

The display of poultry was large and of the best varieties.

The stock was the best ever exhibited. The Lackawanna Breeders Association of Waverly, Pa. had 13 head of the Holstein Freslan. A. S. Shinner of Redington, Pa. had 34 head representing Ayershire, Holstein, Guernsey and Swiss. Also 6 head of sheep of the Hampshire Down and Spanish Merino. John Rumbach had a number of thoroughbred Holstein also a Belder cow. The stock from our own county was very fine, representing the Holstein, Jersey, Durham and Graded. The sheep department was good—every pen being filled. The swine was also of the best, Dr. Gardner's Duroc Jersey were much admired.

The Tourists.

On Thursday and Friday evenings of last week the ever popular play of "Tourists in a Pullman Palace Car" was presented at the Opera House by a first class company. The house was well filled the first night and crowded the second, which speaks well for the play. Every part is in competent hands, and there was not a weak spot anywhere. Chas Kirke as Solomon Goldstein is as good as "Sam'l of Posen," and Harry Clarke as Sir Henry Cushmere reminds one strongly of Lord Dundreary. Each character is worthy of special mention, but space forbids. Should this company ever return here they will be warmly welcomed.

Holton—Harris.

At the residence of the bride's parents Oct. 13, in Sharpstown, New Jersey. Miss Emma P. Holton and F. P. Harris of Woodstown, N. J., formerly of this county, were married. The happy couple at once started to visit friends in the old Keystone via Phila. to Hamburg where they were royally entertained by his brother, from whence they came to Bloomsburg accompanied by Mrs. Dr. Wm. Harris, where they were the guests of his sister Mrs. T. W. Pursel where a number were gathered to do honor to the distinguished pair and the supper prepared later in the evening. The Bloomsburg cornet band remembering that Mr. Harris was a musician of no mean repute and a good band man of long standing, put in an appearance and rendered some choice selections which were highly appreciated, and of course received their reward. Mr. and Mrs. H. will visit his mother and relations at Buckhorn and vicinity and return to Woodstown where he is engaged in the drug business, and that their wedded life may be long and happy is the wish of their many friends.

When catarrh has progressed to a certain extent, it is only a step to that terribly fatal disease, consumption. If you have catarrh, even slightly, it is a terrible mistake to allow it to continue its course unchecked. If you will only read, you will find conclusive reasons why you should take Hood's Sarsaparilla for catarrh, in the statements of many people who have been completely cured of this disease in its most severe forms. Send for book containing abundant evidence to C. I. Hood & Co., proprietors of Hood's Sarsaparilla, Lowell, Mass.

A Great Display.

AS SEEN BY VISITORS ATTENDING THE MILTON FAIR.

Among the elegant displays was that of Reid & Co., which consisted of twenty-three pails of different kinds of fine cut tobaccos, and fifty-five brands of plug, the latter being in glass front boxes the shape and size of a butt of tobacco. These, together with a large gallery of pictures advertising the various goods in their line, made up a most attractive display, a detailed report of which will be of interest to many. A GREAT MISTAKE has heretofore been made in the treatment of rheumatism, neuralgia, and nervous or sick headache. This is evidenced by the failure on the part of thousands of sufferers to find relief, even though they have exhausted the skill of various physicians and tried numerous so-called remedies. To such Athlophoros is offered as a safe, sure, and quick cure. Its success has been phenomenal, and yet it is not surprising because it will do all that is claimed for it. The Athlophoros Co. will gladly refer any who desire to make an investigation to reliable parties who have been cured by it.

Warrensburgh, N. Y.

Enclosed find postal note for one-half dozen bottles of your Athlophoros. It is wonderful how it cures every case where I can persuade them to try. The sales are increasing. My sister-in-law was given up to die by the doctors; they sent for me; I took a bottle of Athlophoros and persuaded her to try it, the second dose gave relief. She had not lain in bed for two weeks; the next night she went to bed and slept all night; in one week she was up and at work around the house. Many thanks.

MRS. JNO. D. NUTTING.

It is owing to Athlophoros that I am alive. I have suffered with inflammatory rheumatism for years, most of the time being perfectly helpless. But one bottle of Athlophoros has cured me. There is nothing like it for the speedy relief and permanent cure of rheumatism, so I recommend it to all, knowing it will accomplish what it claims to do.

MRS. E. VICKERS,

F. C. Hazzard, Upper Lisle, N. Y., says: "I had neuralgia in the head and neck, and Athlophoros cured them."

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

For liver and kidney diseases, dyspepsia, indigestion, weakness, nervous debility, diseases of women, constipation, headache, impure blood, &c., Athlophoros Pills are unequaled. 9

[For The Columbian.]

Baumtown.

BY JOHN SUTTON.

Far up the creek, where mountains lift their lofty heads toward the clouds and many a gushing spring sends its contribution to the main stream is Baumtown a town with a name but no habitation. We have often heard of the man who could not see the town for houses, but here things are reverse, we cannot see the houses for the town or more correctly speaking, we cannot see the town for the want of houses. But there it is, and is as definitely located as is Stillwater or Benton, and any person in the neighborhood can point it out to you. Why it is called Baumtown belongs to an earlier page of the history of upper Fishingcreek, and for the benefit of the younger readers of the Columbian I will endeavor to transcribe it.

Between 45 and 50 years ago, a man could be often seen traveling up and down the creek road, carrying on his shoulder an odd looking leathern sack. He was rather short of stature, but compactly built, and moved upon his feet with a firm tread. His beard was thick and flowing, and his uncut hair parted in the middle of his forehead in true Nazareen style, hung in ringlets about his shoulders, his complexion was dark, but his eye was bright, and his countenance, though serious, was pleasant. He came from one of the lower counties, built a cabin, erected a sawmill and for several years engaged in the manufacture of lumber on the spot now dedicated to his memory. We called him Brother Baum, because he was a preacher. He belonged to a sect known in Denominational history, as "the church of God" but was better known among the people as "Winebrenarians." He taught us good Doctrine and exhorted "one and each" of us to repent and be baptised but assured us,

The work was not complete,
Unless we washed each other's feet.

It is said, once while holding forth at Orangeville, and upon the importance of feet washing a man was seen to leave the house but soon returned with a basin of water and a towel, approaching the stand he said, "Brother I am convinced of the duty you teach and wish to commence the practice of it, here and now, by washing your feet." But said the minister, this is not the time and place, it is a church ordinance and you must come to our quarterly meeting, where we will be happy to join you in this important duty. Ah, but said he in reply, before that time comes, I may die what then will become of my poor soul? But he was comforted with the thought suggested, that

In cases of extremest need
The will is taken for the deed.

There was another thing, that, perhaps, had something to do in bringing the old gentlemen into this section, where he thought he could make some money. He was strongly impressed with the duty of going as a missionary to the "Flathead Indians." In private conversation on the subject he became quite excited over the thought of how much good he could do among them, and would start on his mission as soon as he could raise the neccessary means. But alas! for human calculations he found like others before him and since, that lumbering in the mountains and hauling the products so far to market was not a paying business, that when the expenses were paid there was nothing left, if they, even came out square. So he disposed of his property and returned to where he came from, and has long since passed away like all things earthy. His cabin and his mill, too, are gone, not a vestage of their being left to show that here brains had been active planning, hands had been busy toiling, and a warm heart had looked forward with pleasing anticipations to the accomplishment of an object but had failed, we believe he never went on his mission to the "Flatheads" perhaps he found them nearer home, but he left behind him, what many a man who made a much greater stir in the world has failed to do, an honest name.

The Real Independents.

"An important demand of the times is for a courageous, earnest enforcement of the laws of the State, statutory and organic, especially affecting corporations. These live questions cannot be throttled by yelling tariff, either in Maine or Pennsylvania. The Governor of the State has only one vote—and it does not depend on official prerogative and has no significance on the tariff more than that of a tramp.

"The everlasting bugaboo of allowing the Democrats to elect the Governor ought not to frighten grown-up people. Will the warmest and most enthusiastic friend of General Beaver venture to claim that he is more honest, more wise or better mentally equipped for the intelligent discharge of the high duties of statesmanship incident to Gubernatorial station than Mr. Black? In many respects Mr. Black is greatly the superior. He has a far wider knowledge of public affairs, his mental gifts are more ripe and thorough, and I firmly believe he is no man's man.

"The only reason suggested why the Independents should step into machine harness and vote their own condemnation is the danger of electing a Democratic Governor. The independents assumed that risk once before and I am free to say that the result has more than sustained the wisdom of the choice. A Democrat was elected and the State still lives.

"The administration of Governor Pattison has been wise, pure and honorable. No personal scandals have arisen; no departure from an honest, careful and watchful guardianship of the interests of the State can be shown. The Commonwealth will be fortunate in securing an Executive as clear and free from private or public reproach as Robert E. Pattison."

What Elected Cleveland.

It would be considered very unlucky—and no barber would do it—to vote for a man who wore a full beard. People copy after big men. While Grant was President men used to keep dropping in with the remark: "Just trim my whiskers up Grant style." That made a big difference in the bills of barbers all over the country. Blaine wore a full beard, while Cleveland was clean shaven, save for a moustache. All the barbers were with Cleveland, and in my opinion that's what elected him. They are great electioneers in a quiet way, and many a voter makes up his mind from what his barber tells him he learned from some customer who is a big gun.—Chicago News.

The Biggest Things.

INTERESTING FACTS USEFUL WHEN YOU GET INTO AN ARGUMENT.

The largest theatre in the world is the New Opera House in Paris. It covers nearly three acres of ground; its cubic mass is 4,287,000 feet; it cost about 100,000,000 francs. The largest suspension bridge is the one between New York city and Brooklyn; the length of the main span is 1,595 feet 6 inches; the entire length of the bridge is 5,080 feet. The loftiest active volcano is Popocatapetl—"smoking mountain"—thirty-five miles southwest of Puebla, Mexico; it is 17,748 feet above the sea level and has a crater three miles in circumference and a thousand feet deep. The longest span of wire in the world is used for a telegraph in India over the river Kistnah. It is more than 6,000 feet in length and is 1,200 feet high. The largest ship in the world is the Great Eastern. She is 680 feet long, 83 feet broad and 60 feet deep, being 28,627 tons burden, 18,915 gross and 13,344 net register.

The greatest fortress from a strategical point of view, is the famous stronghold of Gibraltar. It occupies a rocky peninsula jutting out into the sea, about three miles long and three-quarters of a mile wide. One central rock rises to a height of 1,435 feet above the sea level. Its northern face is almost perpendicular, while its east side is full of tremendous precipices. On the south it terminates in what is called Europa Point. The west side is less steep than the east, and between its base and the sea is the narrow, almost level span on which the town of Gibraltar is built. The fortress is considered impregnable to military assault. The regular garrison in time of peace numbers about seven thousand.

The biggest cavern is the Mammoth Cave in Edmonson county, Kentucky. It is near Green river, about six miles from Cave City, and twenty-eight from Bowling Green. The cave consists of a succession of irregular chambers, some of which are large, situated on different levels. Some of these are traversed by navigable branches of the subterranean Echo river. Blind fish are found in its waters.

The longest tunnel in the world is that of the St. Gothard, on the line of railroad between Lucerne and Milan. The summit of the tunnel is 900 feet below the surface at Andermatt, and 6,600 feet beneath the peak of Kastelhorn of the St. Gothard group. The tunnel is 26½ feet wide, and is 18 feet 10 inches from the floor to the crown of the arched roof. It is 9¼ miles long, 1⅛ miles longer than the Mount Cenis Tunnel.

The biggest trees in the world are the mammoth trees of California. One of a grove in Tulare county, according to measurements made by members of the State Geological Survey, was shown to be 276 feet in height, 108 feet in circumference at base, and 76 feet at a point 12 feet above ground. Some of the trees are 376 feet high and 34 feet in diameter. Some of the largest that have been felled indicate an age of from 2,000 to 2,500 years.

The largest library is the Bibliotheque National in Paris, founded by Louis XIV. It contains 1,400,000 volumes, 300,000 pamphlets, 175,000 manuscripts, 300,000 maps and charts, and 150,000 coins and medals. The collection of engravings exceeds 1,300,000, contained in some 10,000 volumes. The portraits number about 100,000.

The largest desert is that of Sahara, a vast region of Northern Africa, extending from the Atlantic Ocean on the west to the valley of the Nile on east. The length from east to west is about 3,000 miles, its average breadth about 900 miles, its area about 2,000,000 square miles. Rain falls in torrents in the Sahara at intervals of five, ten and twenty years. In summer the heat during the day is excessive, but the nights are often cold. In winter the temperature is sometimes below freezing point. The greatest pyramid is that of Cheops, one of the three pyramids forming the Memphis Group, situated on a plateau about 137 feet above the level of the highest rise in the Nile. Its dimensions have been reduced by the removal of the outer portions to furnish stone for the city of Cairo. Its masonry consisted originally of 89,028,000 cubic feet and still amounts to 82,111,000 feet. The present vertical height is 450 feet, against 479 feet originally. The total weight of the stone is estimated at 6,316,000 tons. The largest bell in the world is the great bell of Moscow, at the foot of the Kremlin. Its circumference at the bottom is nearly 68 feet and its height more than 21 feet. In its stoutest part it is 23 inches thick and its weight has been computed to be 443,722 pounds. It has never been hung.

Several Things Worth Knowing.

It is said that salt should be eaten with nuts to aid digestion. That milk which stands too long makes bitter butter. That rusty flat-irons should be rubbed over with beeswax or lard. That it rests you in sewing to change your position frequently. That a hot strong lemonade taken at bedtime will break up a bad cold. That tough beef is made tender by lying a few minutes in vinegar water. That a little soda will relieve sick headache caused by indigestion. That a cup of strong coffee will remove the odor of onions from the breath. That a cup of hot water drank before meals will prevent nausea and dyspepsia. That well-ventilated bedrooms will prevent morning headaches and lassitude. That one in a faint should be laid on the flat of his back then loosen his clothes and let him alone. That consumptive night sweats may be arrested by sponging the body nightly in salt water. That a fever patient can be made cool and comfortable by frequent sponging off with soda water. That to beat eggs quickly add a pinch of salt. That the hair may be kept from falling out after illness by a frequent application to the scalp of sage tea. That you can take out spots from wash goods by rubbing them with the yolk of eggs before washing. The white spots upon varnished furniture will disappear if you hold a hot plate over them.—Family Doctor.

There are scores of persons who are suffering from some form of blood disorder or skin disease, such as Scrofula, Boils, etc., etc. After a practical test, J. H. Mercer asserts that Acker's Blood Elixir will certainly cure all such diseases, including Syphillis and Rheumatism. It is not a patent nostrum, but a scientific preparation, he guarantees it.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female troubles, when J. H. Mercer offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee.

"Insulting Labor Organizations."

In a recent issue of the Philadelphia Press its editor says: "The Democratic State Committee and some of the Democratic candidates on the Democratic State ticket are engaged in an effort to make political use of the Knights of Labor organizations. * *

Considerable sums of money have already been paid hired agents engaged in this work. * * Paid agents of the Democratic State Committee may continue the efforts begun several weeks ago under the direction of the chairman," &c.

We are authorized by Chairman Hensel, of the Democratic State Committee, to say that this statement is a naked lie, the invention of an unscrupulous editor, who hesitates at nothing to serve his party, and from whom every sort of impudent forgery and maligant falsehood may be expected from now until the end of the campaign.

No such effort as he charges has been made; no such agents have been employed or engaged; no money has been paid or offered for such purpose, and no such direction has been given by the State chairman.

The entire story is a falsehood, made from the whole cloth, and the editor of the Press, who is responsible for its publication, is Charles Emory Smith, whom Chairman Cooper puts on the stump to boost his "calamity ticket."

Democrats who have the misfortune to hear him or to read his newspaper, may judge from this illustration what reliance is to be put in their statements.

New Dishes for the White House.

Probably one of the first things that Mrs. Cleveland will do this Winter before the reception season is inaugurated will be to order a new dinner service for the White House, and, in fact, Haviland is engaged in making up designs at present for this purpose. It was this manufacturer who furnished the Limoges ware set for Mrs Hayes, and it has been made to do service under three Administrations. Speaking on this subject, an avenue merchant stated that although the United States Government paid but $3,000 for his dinner service, it cost the manufacturers nearly $18,000. The artist who drew the designs charged $3,000 for the work, and was paid before the delivery of the goods at the White House. Subsequently the service was duplicated by the manufacturers and sold at $1,200 a set, but none of them were ever sold in this city. When a proposition was made to a gentleman here to buy one of these services he replied that as sure as he exposed it on his dinner table people would say that he had borrowed it from the White House, and he did not want that criticism. The only difference between the original and duplicates is the omission from the latter of the name of the designer. A new service is needed at the White House, and something unique and tasteful will undoubtedly be selected by the new mistress of the mansion.—Washington Critic.

J. H. Mercer wishes to make an assertion, which he can back with a positive guarantee. It is all about Acker's Blood Elixir. He claims for it superior merits over all other remedies of its kind, and guarantees for it a positive and sure cure for Rheumatism, Syphillis, and all blood disorders, it frees the skin from spots and disease, and leaves the complexion clear Ask him about it.

J. H. Mercer would especially recommend to the ladies Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. As a laxative they have no equal. They are guaranteed to cure Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, and all diseases arising from a deranged stomach. With a free use of the Tablets, Sick Headache is impossible.

D. LANCELL'S ASTHMA AND CATARRH REMEDY.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
Having struggled 20 years between life and death with ASTHMA or PHTHISIC, treated by eminent physicians, and receiving no benefit, I was compelled during the last 5 years of my illness to sit on my chair day and night gasping for breath. My friends were beyond description. In despair I experimented on myself by compounding roots and herbs and inhaling the medicine thus obtained. I fortunately discovered this WONDERFUL CURE FOR ASTHMA AND CATARRH, warranted to relieve the most stubborn case of ASTHMA IN FIVE MINUTES, so that the patient can lie down to rest and sleep comfortably. Please send the following condensed extracts from unsolicited testimonials, all of recent date:
Oliver V. R. Holmes, San Jose, Cal., writes: "I find the remedy all and even more than represented. I receive instantaneous relief."
E. M. Carson, A. M., Warren, Kansas, writes: "Was treated by eminent physicians of this country and Germany; tried the climate of different states—nothing afforded relief like your preparation."
T. E. Gates, County Treasurer, Philadelphia, Miss., writes: "Have used the Remedy. Would not live without it. Every one that uses it recommends it."
L. B. Phelps, P. M., Griggs, Ohio, writes: "Suffered with asthma 40 years. Your medicine in 3 minutes does more for me than the most eminent physician did for me in three years."
H. C. Plumpton, Joliet, Ill., writes: "Send Catarrh Remedy at once. Cannot get along without it. I find it to be the most valuable medicine I have ever tried."
Geo. W. Brady, Nelson Co., Ky., writes: "I am using the remedy. Gained 8 pounds in 3 weeks. would not be without it."
Martin Fox, Little Falls, N. Y., writes: "Find Remedy excellent. Could not live without it."
We have many other hearty testimonials of cure or relief, and in order that all sufferers from Asthma, Catarrh, Hay Fever, and kindred diseases may have an opportunity of testing the value of the Remedy we will send to any address TRIAL PACKAGE FREE OF CHARGE. Address,

AN EXTRAORDINARY OFFER.
To All Wanting Employment.
We want Live, Energetic and Capable Agents in every county in the United States and Canada, to sell a patent article of great merit, on its MERITS. An article having a large sale, paying over 100 per cent profit, having no competition, and on which the agent is protected in the exclusive sale by a deed given for each and every county he may secure from us. With all these advantages to our agents and the fact that it is an article that can be sold to every house-owner, it might not be necessary to make an "EXTRAORDINARY OFFER" to secure good agents at once, but we have concluded to make it to show, not only our confidence in the merits of our invention, but in its salability by any agent that will handle it with energy. Our agents now at work are making from $150 to $200 a month clear and this fact makes it safe for us to make our offer to all who are out of employment. Any agent that will give our business thirty days' trial and fail to clear at least $50 in this time, ABOVE ALL EXPENSES, can return all
